

Te Awarua-o-Porirua Whaitua Implementation Programme

What is it?

- It is a report from you to the Council and your communities
- It explains the vision of the programme, the issues, the process you have completed, your recommendations and your rationale
- It isn't a chapter in the pNRP
- It is a set of recommendations which inform the Te Awarua-o-Porirua Whaitua Chapter of the proposed Natural Resources Plan

Things to consider . . .

- Content Development
 - Audience - who is it for, who will read it?
 - Voice – what voice needs to be heard?
 - Process – how would the committee like to ensure their input?
 - Ideas - process for seeking community input
 - Timeframes

Draft Contents Page

Post publication

- Need to think about channels of distribution – social media, radio, FB?
- We might need to have different products for different audiences?

When – Timing?

When	What
November 23	Confirm Committee involvement in content and design development Agree content outline and process for seeking feedback from stakeholders and community
February 15 + March 8	Draft committee foreword, finalise content page and draft key themes
March 29, April 19	Develop 'propositions' strategy for socialising content with politicians, stakeholders, community
April - July	3-month engagement period; undertake engagement analysis Develop additional pieces to aid WIP dissemination, such as fact sheets, FAQ sheets
July	Draft WIP revised and agreed by Committee WIP presented to Council, WIP distributed through agreed channels

Questions for Committee

- What do we want our community to get out of this process and publication?
- How closely do you want to be involved in the development of this work?
 - writing the content
 - look and feel
- We need to decide as a committee the level of involvement for the engagement phase
